

I feel that transmitting broadband data signals over power lines using PLC devices will greatly interfere with Ham radio on the HF bands. This has been done in other countries and has made HF transmissions impossible.